

THE LIUNA ADVANTAGE

FOR CONTRACTORS Corporate and Owner Relations

Do you want:

- Opportunities to bid on and win major projects?
- Exposure to leading owners, engineers, architects, general contractors and construction managers?
- Visibility in the early stages of project development?
- Market Share, Projects, and Profits?

Work with Laborers' International Union of North America (LIUNA). Put our contacts to work for you.

Contract awards often grow out of relationships. So LIUNA builds relationships that lead to contract awards. Laborers reach out to, and work with:

- Top executives and contracting officials at Fortune 500 companies;
- Major general contractors and construction managers;
- Designers, engineers, and architects;
- Elected officials;
- Local construction-related boards and committees;
- Owner and industry associations;
- Community, non-profit, and religious organizations;
- Owners and contractors in specialty markets such as pipelines, underground construction, and environmental remediation.

Laborers are visible throughout the construction industry, from trade shows, to corporate board rooms, to public hearings. That visibility translates into more and earlier opportunities to bid on and win projects and jobs. That's the LIUNA Advantage.
