Aggregate and Ready Mix Industries

According to the U.S. Geological Survey in 2002, foreign ownership dominated the top producers of aggregate, crushed stone, and sand and gravel. Most of these foreign owned companies have been operating in the U.S. for years and have built their businesses through the acquisition of smaller family owned companies. Even though the industry remains fragmented, consolidation continues at a rapid pace. In 2005, for example, Cemex of Mexico bought RMC Group of England and Holcim of Switzerland bought Aggregate Industries of England.

This report examines the operations of the foreign owned companies that rank in the top 10 producers of aggregate, crushed stone, ready mix, and sand and gravel. The report covers Hanson, Holcim, Cemex, Oldcastle, LaFarge, RMC Group, Aggregate Industries and Rinker Materials Corporation.
